KEY CLUB RECEIVES CHARTER — Presentation of a charter to the Salem High School Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, was made at a dinner, Thursday evening at the Memorial Building. The club is a civic group comprised of boys, chosen by the Kiwanians, who qualify through academic standing and extra-curricular activities. Ed Yates, president of the Key Club (second from the left) is shown receiving the charter from Dr. Harold Carbin of Toledo, Ohio Kiwanis Key Club chairman. Others pictured above (l. to r.) are Orein Naragon, president of the Kiwanis Club, Yates, Dr. George F. Jones, chairman of Kiwanis Key Club Committee, Dr. Carbin, Stuart Henderson of Bedford, International Kiwanis Key Club chairman and Colonel Dolby of Warren, Governor of Ohio Key Clubs. Other club officers are: Tony Everett, vice president; Ed Enemark, secretary; De Smith, treasurer; Dan Krichbaum, senior director; Fred Stockman, junior director; Bob Oswald, sophomore director; and Frank Tarr, faculty advisor. The 24-member club was organized this summer with 16 charter members. Representatives from East Liverpool, Warren and Canfield Key Clubs were among the 90 guests present.

CAP to Hold Reception, Dinner Sunday

Many out of town guests will be honored at the 18th annual dinner of Group Three of the Civil Air Patrol Sunday at the Saxon Club on Railroad St.

Senior officers will be hosts at a reception at the Metzger Hotel from 2 to 4 p.m. The cadets' reception is planned at the Saxon Club.

The banquet, which is open to the public, is scheduled from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Registrations are to be made with Maj. Justine Bevan of Canfield and M. Sgt. Pat Lentz of Salem, with Sandra Dodge of Salem and Sandra Bevan of Canfield in charge of cadet registration.

Congressman Wayne L. Hays will be guest speaker. Other CAP dignitaries include: Toastmaster Lt. Col. Victor Zang of Toledo; Col. Oliver Swarts, CAP commander of the Great Lakes Region; Col. Lyle M. Castle of Cincinnati, commander of the Ohio Wing; Maj. Oliver Meyers, US Air Force CAP liaison officer of Ohio; John Cyback, property disposal officer at the Lordstown Army Depot; Col. Rand a 11 Hendricks, troop carrier commander of the Youngstown Air Force Base; and Col. Paul E. Bevan of Canfield, commander of Group Three, and his staff.

Approximately 100 guests will be present from Newark, Toledo, Cleveland, Delaware, Cuyahoga Falls, Cincinnati, Mansfield, Steubenville, Columbus and Sharon, Pa. The Rev. Richard Fruit, Salem chaplain and pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church at Lake Milton will give the invocation, and Capt. Ted Horner, Group Three chaplain, will offer the benediction.

Glenn Jackson's Orchestra will provide music for dancing from 7 to 10 p.m.

Ike Stresses Theme Of Peace In Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's real message to the world, says President Eisenhower, is "peace and friendship, in freedom."

The President hit hard on that theme Thursday night in a televised address to the nation just before leaving on a three-week trip that will take him half way around the world.

He described his trip as a mission of peace and good will.

He also renewed his appeal for an end to the steel strikes, and said efforts to sustain the peace depend on a healthy economy.

He spoke of "a peaceful barrier, erected by freedom" in plugging for mutual security or foreign aid spending.

The President spoke from his White House office. "I shall try to convey to everyone our earnestness in striving to reduce the tensions dividing mankind—an effort first requiring, as indeed Mr. Khrushchev agrees, the beginning of mutual disarmament," he said. "Of course, I will stress that the first requirement for mutual disarmament is mutual verification."

The capsule was in the nose of a Little Joe rocket fired at Wallops Island, Va., at 11:15 a.m. EST. The launching was announced here by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

If all went well, the capsule was to be recovered from the ocean some 200 miles offshore some 15 to 20 minutes after the launch.

Memorial Service Set by Elks Lodge

Tribute will be paid to the memory of departed members, including six who died during the past year, by the Salem Elks Lodge at its annual memorial services at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Elks Home. The public is invited.

Theodore F. Berndt of Warren, vice president of the Youngstown advertising firm of Meekin & Thomas Inc., will deliver the memorial address, and Robert Conroy, manager of industrial relations of the Youngstown Kitchens Division of American Standard, will give the general eulogy.

Mrs. Elwood Hammill Jr. will be the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Barnes.

The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Bruce E. Milligan, new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Conroy's eulogy will pay tribute to George Wright of Lisbon, Herbert C. Nolan of Columbiana, and Robert C. Middeker, R. M. Atkinson, William M. Mulford, and Ernest R. Grotelend of Salem who died this year.

The opening and closing ceremony will be in charge of Patrick Nocera, exalted ruler, assisted by Robert Schaeffer, leading knight; Frank Earley, loyal knight; Alton Fields, lecturing knight; Herman Lindner, esquire; William Watkins, chaplain; and Ray Kenneweg, secretary.

Negotiators Still Deadlocked In Steel Dispute

Ike's New Plea Goes Unheeded by USW, Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Steel labor and management negotiators clung firmly to their entrenched positions today despite President Eisenhower's urgent new plea that the nation's economy requires a prompt settlement.

Neither side showed any sign of budging. The industry said again its proposals are fair and reasonable. And the union, without proffering any new terms, charged the employers were being obstinate.

Eisenhower, as part of his radio-TV address to the nation Thursday night before leaving on his goodwill mission abroad, said the nation's economy and its defense posture before the world are suffering from the threat of a renewed strike.

"Day after day, throughout the economy," the President said, "uncertainty, indecision and hesitation are growing as a result of this continuing controversy."

The dispute has been going on since May. A record 116-day strike ended a month ago under an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction that expires on Jan. 26. The union then will be free to strike again.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union chief, proposed Thursday night that the President's steel inquiry board make settlement recommendations. He said he was sure it would result in a prompt contract agreement.

There were a couple of serious drawbacks to this idea. One is that such Taft-Hartley law in barred from "making settlement recommendations. The other is that the industry is unwilling to go along.

McDonald, asked about the legal basis for his suggestion, said he thought it could be done if the industry agreed to the procedure. R. Conrad Cooper, U. S. Steel Corp. vice president and top industry negotiator, accused the union of dodging its responsibility and trying to have a settlement "decreed by government action."

In Philadelphia, Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of the Eisenhower-appointed board, declined comment.

Eisenhower previously has sided with industry views that government boards should not ordinarily make labor dispute recommendations.

300 Cubs to Vie In Pinewood Derby

A minimum of 300 Cub Scouts from the Shawnee District of Columbiana County is expected to compete in the Pinewood Derby on Saturday at the Memorial Building.

The program is scheduled to get underway at 1:30 p.m. and continue for several hours.

The Cub Scouts will race model pinewood cars which they and their fathers constructed. Prizes will be awarded.

The annual event is in charge of Carroll Greene of Salem.

Cub Scouts from Salem, East Palestine, New Waterford, Columbiana, and the United Local School area will compete.

Deejays Finan, Hopkins Are Released by KYW

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two well-known Cleveland disc jockeys—Joe Finan and Wes Hopkins, both of KYW radio—have been fired by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. station.

The company said Thursday contracts with the two men were terminated "because they failed to observe company and station policies and practices." There was no elaboration.

The station also released a statement discussing the subject of "payola," but mentioning no names. The term "payola" refers to payments of money or gifts to obtain special preferences for music or products on the air.

Rebels Seize Planes In Brazil

Propaganda War Is Building Up

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Defiant air force officers waging a propaganda war against President Juscelino Kubitschek fled deeper into the Amazon jungles today. Rebels charge the Kubitschek regime is riddled with graft and communism.

They seized five planes Thursday and holed up in the tiny town of Aragaras, 1,100 miles northwest of Rio, but took off early today for a new base of operations, leaving behind a four-engine airliner with all but one of its passengers, the air force said.

It was reported they took as hostage Remi Archer, president of the Bank of Amazonia in Belem, who was flying home from Rio when the passenger plane was commandeered in flight and diverted to Aragaras.

The air force expressed belief the rebels—reported to number 17 to 27—may have fled to Cachimbo, 1,200 miles northwest of Rio; or to Jacareacanga, where a similar pocket revolt petered out in 1956.

Kubitschek's office said a message had been received from Archer, radioed at Aragaras, asking for his release.

3 Motorists Fined By County Judge

LISBON — Three motorists were fined $35 and costs Thursday by County Judge James L. MacDonald on traffic charges, and one forfeited a bond when he failed to appear for a hearing.

Fined were: Albert Dray, 35, of East Liverpool, $20, reckless operation; Albert J. Farnsworth, 20, Wellsville, $10, speeding; and Harvey A. Scott, 63, Fredericksburg, $5, driving left of center.

Forrest McElwain, 55, of Charlemont, forfeited a $20 bond for passing on the crest of a hill. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Mass Funeral Set In French Disaster

FREJUS, France (AP)—Rescue teams slogged through muck and debris today, searching for more victims of the Malpasset Dam disaster. Grieving relatives prepared for a mass funeral of 110 dead.

Hospital authorities reported 200 counted dead.

Officials believed about 100 persons were missing, some buried under silt which lay nine feet deep in places. But they said this estimate was based on requests from relatives of those not yet found, and there might be more.

Only one foreigner, a Belgian, was reported dead.

About 65 were injured. Some 30 were still hospitalized.

The mass funeral was asked by officials in an effort to clear crowded hospitals — where shrouded bodies lined the corridors—and make room for the living.

Helicopters, ambulances and some 5,000 troops fanned out over the four-mile-long Reyran River valley, where the Malpasset Dam crumbled Wednesday night, sending a raging wall of water through the low country to the Mediterranean.

Work teams carrying food and fresh water moved into isolated areas to aid survivors.

Officials decided on a hastily arranged mass funeral this afternoon for as many as possible of the identified victims. The burial site is Frejus Cemetery, in a high part of the town that escaped the flood.

Scores of other bodies draped in sheets were placed in rows along corridors of the Frejus Hospital and in makeshift morgues.

Ohio Valley Gas Co. Seeks Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Ohio Valley Gas Co. announced today it will ask emergency action by the Public Utilities Commission to increase rates in 24 eastern Ohio communities.

The action would apply to the rates of 45,000 customers in the company's Steubenville division—Belmont, Columbiana, Harrison, Jefferson and Monroe counties.

"Increased costs of furnishing natural gas service make this step necessary," company president Allan W. Lundstrum wrote in a letter to the commission.

"For the 12 months ended Dec. 31, 1959, the (company's) actual operating costs will substantially exceed the revenues collected from the customers in the eastern Ohio area," Lundstrum added.

Lundstrum said the company will make a formal filing with the commission about Jan. 4 to specify a rate that would give the firm partial relief.

Communities which would be involved in the proposed rate increase are: Steubenville, East Liverpool, Martins Ferry, Bellaire, Wellsville, Stratton, Empire, Richmond, Hopedale, Toronto, Winterville, Mingo Junction, New Alexandria, Brilliant, Rayland, Tiltonsville, Yorkville, Bridgeport, Brookside, Shadyside, Clarington, Hannibal, Duffy and Sardis.

400 Invitations Mailed For Lisbon Charity Ball

LISBON — Four hundred invitations were mailed out Thursday for the 14th annual Yuletide Charity Ball to be held Saturday, Dec. 26, at the High School.

Co-chairmen for the ball again this year will be Thomas Gallo and Mrs. Walter McDevitt. Any person who wishes to attend and has not received an invitation may contact either co-chairman.

Keith Riffle and his orchestra of Salem will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

On the dance committee are Mr. and Mrs. Gallo, Mr. and Mrs. McDevitt, Misses Betty McKenna, Meretta Ikrit, Betty Liggitt, Velma Brinker, Connie Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hall, Mr. and Mrs. William Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steitz, and John Calvin.

President Met At Airport by Italian Chief

Landing Delayed For 20 Minutes By Heavy Overcast

ROME (AP)—Ancient Rome gave President Eisenhower a rainy but warm welcome today at the start of his 22,000-mile "mission of peace and good will."

Even the Communists, taking a cue from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, joined in the welcome with banners saying: "Communists of Rome salute President Dwight Eisenhower."

A heavy overcast and the rain resulted in a 20-minute delay in landing.

The American President told greeters at Rome's Ciampino Airport that his message for each of the 11 countries he visits is one of friendship and freedom, and he hopes it "will be heard in every country where communications are allowed freely."

Eisenhower expressed pleasure in landing "in this great city which was for so long the very center of all Western civilization."

He said he was glad to come to Italy, too, because of the "ties of blood which unite our two countries." He noted that millions of Americans sprang from Italian origins, "so our friendship is not merely official—but comes from the people, from relatives clasping hands across the sea."

The President said he looked forward with eagerness to his talks here with President Giovanni Gronchi, Premier Antonio Segni and other Italian leaders concerning his search for "peace with justice" in the world.

Gronchi hailed the American President's "great political sagacity" and his humanity in undertaking his historic mission.

And Rome's Mayor Urbano Ciocchetti assured Eisenhower that the Italian capital "looks at you with profound sympathy and will follow with very warm hopes the delicate and generous mission that you have undertaken, following the impulse of your spirit."

The big jet airliner that flew the President across the Atlantic overnight from Washington circled the airport for 26 minutes before it came in for a landing. Airport sources later revealed it made a ground-controlled landing, because of the weather and also because the plane's electronic landing equipment was not functioning properly.

While Italian government officials watched anxiously, the big jet swung down to a perfect landing, sending up a cloud of spray from puddles on the field.

Eisenhower emerged smiling, bareheaded but looking a little tired from the trip. He set foot on Italian soil for his fifth visit to Rome at 12:22 p.m.

A band hurriedly played excerpts from the American and Italian national anthems, there was a quick exchange of greetings and then the officials hurried to the airport veranda for the welcoming speeches.

The spectators applauded heartily as the President arrived and at the conclusion of the translation of his remarks. Outside the airport, another crowd cheered in the rain as the two presidents drove off for the trip into Rome over the 2,000-year-old Appian Way.

Despite the rain, small crowds of Italians under umbrellas lined Rome streets to watch the President go by on his way to the 400-year-old Quirinal Palace, his residence for his two-day stay in Rome. The weather kept the numbers of the crowd down, but

OEA Delegates Elect New Officers Today

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Delegates to the Ohio Education Assn. convention vote today for new officers. Ten Ohio school boards will be honored for adopting personnel policy statements.

Harland B. Horton, principal of South High School in Akron, is unopposed to succeed Lakewood's Sylvia Todd as OEA president.

Unopposed for the vice presidency now held by Horton is Robert P. Murphy, superintendent of Guernsey County schools.

At a dinner tonight, sponsored by OEA's department of classroom teachers, 10 school boards will be cited for having written personnel policies of high quality. They are those of Barnesville, Brookfield (Trumbull County), Canton Local (Stark), East Cleveland, Fairport Harbor, Hudson (Summit), Liberty Union (Fairfield), Three Rivers (Coshocton), Tipp City and Warren.

OEA achievement citations were presented to Akron, Alliance, Ash-tabula, Cambridge, Celina, Cincinnati, Cuyahoga Falls, Euclid, Marietta, Franklin County, Greenfield, Massillon, Piqua, Struthers, Sylvania, Toledo, Trumbull County, Wooster and Youngstown.

In elections: Asa O. Tom was elected president of the Ohio County Superintendents Assn., an OEA affiliate. Tom is superintendent of Muskingum County schools.

F. W. Binkley, principal of the Dana School, Columbus, was named president of the OEA's department of elementary school principals.

Two members of the OEA executive committee were to be named today for three-year terms, and only two nominees were presented. They are high school teachers Christ F. Geckeler, of Hamilton, and Harry Schaller, of Akron.

Ohio is assured of one directorship in the National Education Assn., for a three-year term, and the only nominee is Lucille Carroll, a high school teacher at Wooster.

The state will get an additional NEA directorship if it has sufficient memberships in the state, and for this possible post election race developed. Two were nominated—Jennie L. Davis, an elementary teacher in Cincinnati, and Margaret Berry, a high school teacher at Kent.

Of the eight places on the Educational Council, a research policies group, four must go to classroom teachers. As only four in this category were nominated, they are assured of election. They are Martha Barrett and Fred Schlimm, both high school teachers in Cincinnati; Cleo B. Warstler, and elementary teacher at Columbus, and Grace Jones, an elementary teacher at the Lucas Local School, Mansfield.

For the other four places there are eight candidates: Glen Booth, principal of Oakville Elementary School, Mayfield; Kenneth Crim, director of research for Montgomery County schools, Dayton; H. Howard Lash, principal of Lake High School, Hartsville; Paul Lindquist, principal of McGuffey Elementary School, Columbus; Norman E. Purdy, principal of Terrace Park Elementary School, Mariemont; Carl Reeves, principal of McKinley Elementary School, Fairport Harbor; John W. Shreve, assistant superintendent, Cincinnati, and J. H. Wanamaker, administrative assistant, Youngstown.

McDANIEL WINS AWARD
Leonard McDaniel of RD 4, Lisbon, assistant county scout executive, was awarded honorable mention in the Muskingum Conservancy District's 1959 photo contest.

Ellen Jacobus of RD 2, Sunbury won first prize. There were 178 entries, all of which were pictures of activities or scenes on the Muskingum Conservancy District lakes and properties.

Lisbon Firemen Fix Toys for Needy Children

Santa had a big assist from the volunteer firemen at Lisbon this year and, as a result, many children are going to have a merrier Christmas.

A toy repair shop, begun last summer by the firemen, has yielded a wide assortment of toys and games for underprivileged boys and girls. The toys will be turned over to the Columbiana County Welfare department for distribution to children in the foster homes and to boys and girls in Lisbon village and Center Township—the area served by the Lisbon fire department. Because they started early, the firemen were able to finish their project this week. Shown in the pictures above as they completed repairs to a final batch of toys are:

Twining Listed Among Guests Of Large Defense Contractor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and a score of other officers were named today as guests of a defense contractor for golf jaunts in the Bahamas.

Testimony made public by a House investigating subcommittee also listed Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas as a visitor at the golf resort on Eleuthera Island, the Cotton Bay Club—but said Douglas paid his own expenses. Douglas confirmed this.

Listen as a guest of the Martin Co. at the club was retired Air Force Lt. Gen. E. R. Ouesada, at the time a special assistant to President Eisenhower and now administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency.

Other Air Force and Navy officers listed as Martin guests included Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., now commander in chief, Pacific Air Forces; Rear Adm. F. M. Hughes, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, Norfolk, Va.; and Gen. S. E. Anderson, now commander of the Air Materiel Command.

Douglas and Ouesada were at the club for a weekend in February 1958 when other visitors included Twining, Mrs. Twining, their son, married daughter and infant grandson, the subcommittee was told.

Twining informed the subcommittee he had made three visits to the resort, one each in the years 1957, 1958 and 1959. He said he spent $40 to $50 for caddy fees, tips and personal necessities.

"The trips were made for recreational purposes, i. e. golfing, swimming and relaxation," he wrote. "During each of my three visits, I received the normal courtesies extended by a host to a guest."

Various of the other officers named said they had considered themselves guests of personal friends who invited them, rather than of the Martin Co. and some said they had tried without success to pay part or all of their expenses.

Nationalist Officer Sees Red Attack

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A "ranking officer" in the Matsuo group of islands was quoted today as saying there are mounting indications that the Chinese Communists might launch a full-scale attack at any moment on the Nationalist-held islands at the northern end of the Formosa Strait.

The Nationalist officer, whose name was not given, was quoted in a report from the islands by the official Central News Agency.

The Nationalist report conflicted with one made Thursday by the commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, Vice Adm. Frederick N. Kivette, whose forces guard the Formosa Strait. He said the Red buildup on the mainland coast opposite Formosa has leveled off.

Woman Has Taken Last Driving Lesson

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Helen Austin, 70, says she's taken her last driving lesson because:

Thursday she was driving with her instructor when the car jumped a curb and smashed into a crowded cafe. The car toppled the main roof beam and the stucco structure collapsed like a house of cards. Part of the building fell on another car parked outside. Twelve persons were injured and damage was estimated at $30,000.

Mrs. Austin's instructor was lucky. He was sitting in the back seat. The right front of the sedan was crushed.

Teller Makes False Entries, Bank Closes

TENAHNA, Tex. (AP)—A bank employe, accused of false entries, blamed his sideline business as a contractor for a $340,000 shortage which closed the bank here Thursday.

Bank officials said all claims by depositors will be paid.

FBI agents charged Clifford Gary, 34, after examiners found the money missing. He posted $3,000 bond in the case at Tyler, Tex., Thursday night.

"I knew I was taking the jobs too cheap," said Gary of his construction firm, which bid mostly on brush clearing and roadbed building.

"I just kept trying to make a comeback and get on a paying basis. One thing led to another and I didn't make it."

Gary was assistant cashier of the Tenaha First State Bank, where he had worked since 1946. Examiners said the shortage represented 40 per cent of the bank's deposits.

Outlook Today Ohio's Weather

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

The sun finally broke through the heavy fog Thursday at about noon, enabling temperatures to climb as high as 46 at Chesapeake, while Columbus reached 42 and Cleveland 43.

By this morning temperatures dropped to near or slightly below freezing. Skies were clear except in the eastern counties and along the Ohio River, where heavy fog still existed.

Most of the state will be fair and warmer today, with afternoon temperatures near 50. Winds will be from the south at 10-15 m.p.h. by afternoon.

A low pressure area and cold front will approach Ohio tonight, bringing cloudy skies and a chance of rain. Colder air will move into the state Saturday and skies will remain cloudy. Light rain may occur, especially over the northern half.

Boy Scout Training Saves Girl's Life

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boy Scout training and a television cowboy scene saved a 4-year-old girl's life and a home from fire Thursday night.

Mrs. Louis Saggianni of San Pedro put her daughter Elissa to bed, then went to another room. The youngster ran screaming into the living room, her clothes on fire. She had tried to light a Christmas candle.

Her brother Louis, 13, tripped her, rolled her on the rug and beat out the flames with his hands.

At the same time, John, 11, and Mario, 8, ran and soaked some towels, then beat out the flames in Elissa's bedroom.

Louis learned from the Boy Scout classes, the other two brothers from seeing a cowboy put out a fire on TV.

Trade Union Challenges Law In Court

CLEVELAND (AP)—A striking labor union has challenged the constitutionality of the new Landrum-Griffin labor reform law in a petition to U. S. District Court.

The action was brought Thursday by the Building Service Employees International Union on its Local 47. The formal court test of the new law's legality is believed to be the first in the nation. The petition focuses particularly on the picketing restrictions of amendments to the 12-year-old Taft-Hartley Act.

In its petition and also in a separate motion, the union sought a temporary restraining order to enjoin Phillip Fusco, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, from counting ballots cast in a bargaining agency election ordered by Fusco.

The court was expected to set a date today for hearing the injunction action.

City Income Tax Can Mean Progress

City Council has finally "grabbed the bull by the horns" and proposed a city income tax levy.

In fact, an ordinance calling for a six-tenths of one per cent levy is scheduled for introduction in Council at a special meeting Tuesday night. Once in effect, the income tax would mean .60 cents on every $100 earned by a man or woman at work.

For the past several years municipal receipts and expenditures have barely managed to balance at the end of each 12 months and now, in the words of the finance committee, Salem faces an emergency in 1960.

"A careful study of the 1960 budget has been made," Finance Chairman Fred Koenreich explains. "Tax revenue from other sources just isn't sufficient to maintain normal operations in the face of rising costs or to provide for any capital improvements."

UNFORTUNATELY, Council is coming to grips with the income tax problem before it knows the results of the real estate reappraisal now under way in the county, but the county auditor has indicated that any additional revenue probably would be offset by the loss of property and personal taxes incurred when American-Standard Corp. closed its Youngstown Kitchens Division here a year ago.

This, apparently, has prompted Council to consider the income tax levy which it legally can enact so long as it does not exceed one per cent.

An alternative would have been for Council to have submitted a levy to the voters for general operations. This, however, would have been another levy against property owners who already are crying "uncle." Salem's real estate tax rate being the second highest in Columbiana County.

Salem's growing financial difficulties are not unusual. Many cities in Ohio have experienced similar fiscal problems and have adopted income tax levies. The continued rise in various municipal costs, without adequate revenue to meet the higher spending program, can only lead to deficit financing.

THERE ARE ONLY TWO WAYS to avoid this, in our opinion. One would mean retrenchment, maintaining only the barest of municipal services to live within income. The other course demands additional revenue from some local source adequate to meet the uncontrolled rise in municipal expenditures.

The Ohio Public Expenditure Council, which makes periodic reports on Salem's government operation, warned five years ago that new revenue sources eventually would have to be tapped.

If City Council tells the people of Salem—and it should without any hesitation—just how it intends to spend the money collected from the income tax, our city can show real progress through new capital improvements and other projects made possible by a healthy general fund.

No Security Anywhere

In the hustle-bustle nature of President Eisenhower's good will tour, he will have no time to hear all the tales of woe that would bear telling.

When he visits Spain, for example, there will be an exchange of pleasantries. No one will mention Franco's perfidy in World War II, nor the fact he is presiding over the unhappiest poorhouse in Europe.

In Morocco, it will not be tactful to talk about those multi-million-dollar U.S. bases that a government drifting toward neutralism has forced this government to write off as a loss.

Anti-Americanism in Iran will be glossed over. In India, there will be no aspersions cast on the foolish attitude of Prime Minister Nehru and his protegee, Krishna Menon, toward the Red Chinese now threatening Indian security.

The economic troubles of Pakistan will not be aired, not the chronic inflation that plagues Turkey. There will be no discussion in Italy of that country's handicap — the largest Communist party in Western Europe.

Afghanistan will not be chided for drifting toward the Soviet Union. Nor will the heavy Soviet pressure on Greece be spoken of; the Greeks will assure President Eisenhower and his party that they are not afraid of pressure.

They never have been afraid in the past, nor have the Turks. Perhaps it can be said of France under President De Gaulle that it, too, is showing no fear. And this, in spite of the hustle-bustle, might be the most important thing President Eisenhower learns during the trip.

HERE AT HOME, depending on bits and pieces of information predigested for him by his staff, the President must have the impression that many Americans have, of a world living in abject fear of tomorrow and weathering out today in the frame of mind of a man who has been told he has only a short time to live.

This is not the impression that knowledgeable travelers have when they visit foreign countries and talk to the people, instead of their leaders.

Once Over

Big advertising man's suggestion that air-wave problems be solved by "a committee of outstanding citizens" seems odd. The more outstanding a citizen he is, the less likely he has ever spent much time watching screen. No able citizen with rep for wisdom would want to devote his energies and patience to cowboys, pro wrestlers, disk jockeys, private eyes, glee parties and maps tracing route of a pill through human organs.

TV chains could name such men but how would it catch them, bind them, get them in front of TV sets and make them stay there and watch EVERYTHING? (This isn't saying that TV isn't bringing pleasure to millions and making their lives happier. But they are not on a committee and can tune out when they wish without neglecting duty.)

Our guess is that before "committee of outstanding citizens" had been on the job a week at least one member would have been taken to the booby-hatch, his usefulness gone. After a month, three more would have disappeared, leaving notes, "Sorry. It was too much." At end of six months the rest of the committee would be demanding grand jury probe into whether putting a well-meaning group to such an ordeal was not foul play.

INVESTIGATIONS are busting out all over. Estes Kefauver is probing the high cost of medicines. Kefauver in a consoin hat fighting drugstore Indians hiding behind mortar and pestle appeals to plenty of people who have to buy pills on a credit plan.

Down in Miami a Senate subcommittee is probing to see whether Florida gives a fair deal to old folks flocking there in belief life begins at the Gulf Stream. Let's hope Sen. McNamara, the chairman, isn't functioning for the poor from a de luxe suite at Miami Beach.

Political leaders since World War II all have one aim in mind when they are talking to official representatives of the United States. They want to get as much as they can of this country's anti-Communist largesse, on the best possible terms.

They are under powerful constraint to put their worst foot forward, to prove their need is acute.

Moreover, they have been urged to do this by spokesmen for the United States who are as hell-bent on giving away money as its beneficiaries are bent on getting it.

The world has been turned into a ward for national hypochondriacs alternately trying to prove to the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics that the end is near unless succor is forthcoming in large quantities.

IT IS A REASONABLE guess that this way of doing things must have raised as many eyebrows and questions in the Presidium as it has raised in the U.S. Congress. The Presidium, after all, has unwieldy China on its list of wards that perpetually and perennially need help. Congress has no patients of that girth and grasp.

President Eisenhower is too well schooled in the realities of human existence to expect personal security. He has faced the fact of his own insecurity fearlessly, yet it has not turned him into a hypochondriac.

It would be a momentous realization, if it came to him on his trip, that the countries he had seen all have their problems, just as the United States has its problems, but their problems are for the most part no more than is the normal lot of men.

There eventually must come a time when the world will cease to exist in a state of emergency and "brinkmanship," unless life, itself, is to be thought of as an endless state of emergency.

Maybe we should tolerate the bore. At least he doesn't talk about other people.

By H. I. Phillips

Dade County is giving senators a report by 200 area experts to prove oldsters are getting proper consideration. But there is always a chance bearers of the report will get tied up in a jam of luxury autos on way to the McNamara committee which, we trust, isn't out on a swimming-float.

OLD-TIMERS IN SHOW BIZ will shed a tear to hear that two famous theaters where the first movies were shown have lost out to bulldozers. They are the Poli Theaters, the Bijou and Palace, in New Haven, Conn.

The Bijou is now a parking lot, as is Tom Sullivan's Oneco, where the vaudeville greats holed up. The Palace, once the most sumptuous vaudeville house in the East, is to be razed soon. Both knew the top show people of the past: the Four Cohans, Ward & Vokes, Houdini, Keller the Birdman, the Russell Brothers, the Virginia Judge, Lew Dockstad, Annette Kellerman, Eva Tanguay, Eddie Foy, Honey-Boy Avans, etc.

It was at the Palace that, as a kid, we first saw Ed Wynn, in his first vaudeville act, wholly dependent on funny hats. What a saga of show biz!

Sylvester Poli came to America as an immigrant and opened up a small museum, and with his wife moulded the wax figures. In a few years he built the Bijou where we got our first gander at movies, largely of locomotives. Then came the huge Palace where for years the movies were used at the end of eight vaudeville acts to "chase" audiences OUT!

Tom Sullivan's Oneco, across the street, was known to thousands of vaudeville folks as one of their road "homes." Poli died years ago, but the beautiful girl who carved the wax figures with him over a half-century ago celebrated her 91st birthday the other day

Fruits of Extravagance

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In a very important address before the Tax Foundation in New York, Maurice H. Stans, director of the budget, spoke with grim warning of what three decades of extravagance have passed on to the 1960's and beyond.

It would require a degree of wishful thinking denied me to believe that such sober warnings might stand against the pressures that have created the money situation in which we are gripped. But this thoroughly experienced business executive, who has served the public in Washington since 1953, has maintained his conscience, name, and reputation.

Despite the heroic efforts of President Eisenhower to halt the tide and his prospective efforts to finish his term fighting for the credit of the United States, a president is to a degree the prisoner of past executive and congressional commitments.

Since the director of the budget is only the President's right arm, he must share that prison. But he knows the facts and has the courage and competence to give a warning.

In that area of public spending which concerns the executive department's households, he has considerable discretion. In his job there, he follows the principle which he describes as "a uniform distribution of dissatisfaction."

He makes a selection of choices among competing demands for money among the departments

But the proportion of federal outlays on the administrative expenses of those departments is relatively small.

THE BIG BITE, aside from the military, is for mortgages on future outlays by laws which have been passed before.

For example: The government is committed to find and spend between 25 billions and 35 billions on highways; eight billions on civil works under way; six billions on public housing; more than four billions on merchant marine subsidies and ship replacement—subsidies necessary because the powerful maritime unions make United States shipping too expensive to compete with foreign ships.

These and a variety of other obligations created in the past pass a legal requirement of 98 billion on to the 1960's.

There are other programs initiated in the past which, because of changed conditions, should be cut back or eliminated.

The President a year ago asked for 13 such cuts. Congress acted on only three.

There are liabilities for past services to be added. Military retirement outlays will be 30 billions; civil employ retirements, 27½ billions; future compensation for veterans plus pensions will be 3½ billions.

Thus, the total mortgage on the future tax burden, aside from military, welfare, and commerce annual outlays, will be the incredible amount of 750 billions. That is what we must meet in the 1960's and beyond.

But the pressure for new programs will continue and be intensified every election year.

According to Mr. Stans, 20 bills introduced in Congress last year, which will not doubt be renewed this year, were for future expenditures of 326 billions. That means that unless a miracle of presidential resistance and congressional responsibility intervenes, the budget will rise from its present level of 80 billions to something like 135 billions in the near future.

WHEN WE SEE the presidential budget next month, we should know that his power extends to only 15 per cent of the total. His hands are tied so far as 85 per cent is concerned.

The liberals would meet this stupendous burden on the taxpayers and economy of the country by what Stans calls a "numbers game," promoted by what he calls "the cult of growth."

By a formula that cannot be proved and never has been proved, it is claimed that these vast expenditures will produce more wealth to tax.

By a figure pulled out of the empty air we are expected to take the word of fatuous economists that a miracle of growth will set in to make all things possible.

Thus, they would take our real dollars now on a guess that some unseen wealth will appear to pay it back. When they talk about dollars, the figures are not dollars of present value. For the programs and obligations of the present and to be imposed will create more inflation and thus pinch the taxpayer of the 1960's, both in what he must pay the government and what he must pay for what he needs in the market.

There is the grim prospect. I have enough faith left to believe that if a presidential candidate will put this squarely to the people, with a firm commitment to hold firm for economy, he will be elected.

It will in such a case be a test of American character, one of the most serious ever imposed.

Nepotism Hysteria

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Law Could Deny Posts for Relatives

Supposing it were proposed that a law be passed forbidding any near or distant relative of any member of Congress to hold any job at the Capitol — wouldn't this be regarded as an invasion of the rights of a citizen?

Judging, however, by the hysteria surrounding the disclosure of the payroll records of members of Congress, such a law now would appear to be a logical corollary.

Yet an erroneous impression is created by the grouping of relatives and non-relatives of senators and representatives without regard to whether they are efficient employees deserving of the pay they get or have been put on the payroll as a gift.

There are articulate persons in our midst who usually rise up to express their indignation when the individual rights of a citizen are impaired.

They call themselves "civil liberty" organizations. They are quick to protest when any adverse action touches even remotely the Communist cause.

After all, they argue, it is unjust to indict a whole class of citizens because some among them have been or may be found waiting.

It is a safe assumption that the crusaders will not cry out against the injustice done the innocent citizens who happen to be relatives of members of Congress and who happen also to be employees chosen by senators and representatives to do some of the administrative or clerical work of their offices.

MANY A MEMBER of Congress has a difficult problem in choosing a private secretary. His wife may have been employed in such a capacity before their marriage. She may have worked without pay the people in his district. She knows during his campaign. She knows the problems of the state.

Is she to be deprived of the right to serve in a job for which she is qualified just because her husband happens to be a member of congress?

Is she to be denied the right to serve her own government because she is related to a member of Congress by marriage?

Is a brother or a nephew or a cousin to be similarly disqualified irrespective of his capacity or ability?

Not long ago the hue and cry was against "guilt by association." Resentment was widely expressed against the publicity that cast suspicion on a group of Americans without specifying those that were guilty or even suspected of guilt.

The linking of the good with the bad was denounced as unjust and as the result only of what was called "mass hysteria." Congressional committees themselves were accused of such mass condemnation.

Today some members of the Washington press itself must take much of the responsibility for the consequences of the latest crusade. A worthy cause — the right to know what the government is doing with taxpayers' money—led at the last session of Congress to the passage of a resolution forcing disclosure of Senate as well as House payrolls.

This is proper but it is just to lump together everybody on those payrolls who is related to a member of Congress and give the impression that they are all tarred with the same brush?

Three headlines blazoned across the front pages of Eastern newspapers on Tuesday morning read, respectively, as follows: "Kin of 20 senators are shown on payroll," "20 Senators list 26 relatives on payroll," and "17 Senators' kin found on payroll."

THE DOCUMENT disclosing the names on the Senate payroll did not distinguish between relatives and non-relatives. It was merely a list of employees of each senator and representative.

Was it not the duty of the press, if it chose to single out the relatives of members of Congress on the payroll, to state also the nature of the work done and give to the public a balanced report, if not judgment, on the qualifications of each worker to hold the job in question?

Was it necessary to point the finger of suspicion at all those employees who happen to be relatives of members of Congress — the efficient as well as the inefficient, those who give a full day's work for the pay received as well as the idlers?

It will be responded that this is but one way to ferret out abuses. But was it fair to print the names of all the senators and representatives who have relatives on the payroll before ascertaining those guilty of a misuse of government money?

It would appear that those senators and representatives who employ relatives have been placed on the defensive and now must explain to their constituents just what each relative does and why the selection was made.

All this simply means that, due to the expose, it is today apparently regarded as wrong or improper for a senator or representative to hire any relatives no matter how efficient he or she may be.

So, even though no law against the employment of relatives has been enacted, mass hysteria is producing the same result.

CD Offers Home Alarm

By DAVID BARNETT

The chief of this county's Civil Defense planners says development work on a cheap, bantam, family alarm system for disaster alerts has been 96 per cent completed.

Leo A. Hoegh, former governor of Iowa and now director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, said 1,000 of the devices would be installed early next year in a mass test to convince utility companies that the system works and to persuade them to invest in the operation.

The device, known as the National Emergency Alarm Repeater, plugs into any ordinary electric socket. When activated, by transforming part of the 60-cycle power into a 240-cycle signal, the small device emits a loud, insistent buzzing noise.

Hoegh said that the federal agency has great confidence in NEAR as a supplement to the already installed siren system.

The director said that the gadget proved to the satisfaction of the agency in a 150-unit test in Michigan last year, would provide an excellent warning system for natural dangers, such as tornadoes, as well as for man-made disaster, such as an atomic attack.

Development work, done under contract from the government since 1956, has cost about 1¼ million dollars, he said.

The individual receivers would cost $4 to $5 apiece and would drain electricity costing about 50 cents a year. Hoegh anticipates that, because the disaster insurance offered by the devices is so good, individual homeowners will be willing to buy and plug them in at their own expense.

Installing the activating equipment on the power lines might cost some 40 million dollars, but there is a chance the utilities will bear this expense as a public service.

The main advantage of using power lines as a conveyor for a warning system is that 99 per cent of this country's urban population is served by electricity. Because all power networks in the country are interconnected, an alert originating at a key generator could be flashed throughout the nation.

The mass test, to be held in January or February, probably will take place on the utility network in Michigan which cooperated in the smallest test last year.

Hoegh said he planned to ask Congress for a little money—"less than one million dollars in the next fiscal year to keep the program going.

THE WELCOME Wagon Newcomers Club Christmas banquet was arranged for Dec. 16 at the Timberlans, when the board of directors met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Elton Neumann of 438 E. 8th St.

The Fifth Wheel Club will be guests at the banquet. Mrs. John Edwards is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. H. Kenneth Williams, Mrs. Richard Croy, Mrs. Neumann, Mrs. Robert Love, Mrs. Bruce Carlton, Mrs. Jerry Colaizzi and Mrs. S. D. Livingston.

A gift exchange and a playlet by the members will be featured. Mrs. Love was named chairman of the style show to be held March 23.

Gifts were exchanged by the members. Mrs. Croy assisted the hostess when refreshments were served.

The next board meeting is Jan. 13 at the home of Mrs. Edwards of 1170 E. State St.

THE REGULAR meeting of the Salem Federation of Women's Club will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Smucker House. All club presidents are invited to attend.

A BOWLING party at Timberlans highlighted the recent meeting of the Diamond Club.

Teen-Ager Answers Plea By Parents

NEW YORK (AP) — Teen-ager Robert Murphy has ended two days of hiding in subways and begged forgiveness of the foster mother he tried to kill with a rifle.

At the sight of her as she lay in critical condition in a hospital ward, Robert burst into tears and sobbed, "Mother, forgive me for what I've done."

"I forgive you, Bobby," answered Marie Murphy.

The 19-year-old woman was shot when she entered her darkened Brooklyn home last Tuesday night. Wounded in the chest and shoulder with .22-caliber slugs, she moaned for two days for her son between lapses of consciousness.

Robert gave himself up Thursday to face a felonious assault charge.

The ired, disheveled 16-year-old said: "I don't know what got into me."

"I was thinking about killing Mom for the last two months. We never saw eye to eye on anything."

What made him decide to do it when he did?

"The thing that finally made me decide to do it was the supper dishes she made me do the night before the shooting."

"I made plans to shoot her the next day."

The youth disappeared after the shooting. He said he hid in subways, walked the streets, slept in halls and worried.

When he read in a newspaper a plea by his parents for his return he decided to give up.

"I trust their judgment," he said to police. "They asked me to come in. So I'm here."

Although Robert was known to be a mild-mannered youth, tension had built up between him and his mother because she objected to a girl friend of his and frowned on his desire for flashy clothes.

Adventist Church to Seek Missions Funds

The local Seventh-Day Adventist Church will participate in the group's 50th World Missions Appeal campaign which opens Saturday evening. The drive will run for eight weeks under the direction of Ray Schmoelbel, church home missions director. The goal is $750.

Funds collected will go toward extending welfare, disaster aid and education services at home and widespread medical and social services in 185 foreign lands, the church said. Christmas carolers will accompany the house-to-house canvassers.

Services for the group Saturday are:

Sabbath School, 2 p.m.
Worship, 3:30 p.m. Marvin H. Reeder, former missionary to Japan, will be the guest speaker.
Wednesday prayer service at 7:45 p.m.

Pickering Cites Reds Propaganda

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The scientist who directed development of America's first space satellite says the Soviet Union is beating Uncle Sam to the punch in propaganda as well as space.

Actually, the U.S. has launched more successful satellites than the Soviets, Dr. William H. Pickering told the Electronic Industries Assn. Thursday night.

"But each of their launchings has been carefully calculated to produce impact on the people's minds," he added, "while ours have been more in the nature of scientific consolidations."

However, he conceded that the Soviet Union is far ahead in space achievements. Pickering, director of Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, urged non-military control of America's space program to dramatize U.S. feats.

Should You Mortgage or Buy Outright?

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

You need shelter, and the question arises: should you rent or buy? If you buy, assuming you have the cash, would an outright purchase be better than a mortgage at today's interest rates?

Let's do a bit of oversimplified figuring assuming you are in the $20,000-house class.

The cost of rentals is largely determined by area, but I've been advised that the average monthly rental today for a $20,000 house might run around $200, or $2,400 a year, or $48,000 for 20 years if the rent were not increased.

Now pretend you had the $20,000 cash and purchased outright. Had you invested the $20,000 at 5 per cent—not compounding or realizing any growth in capital—over a 20-year period, you'd receive $20,000 of income.

Say that at the end of that period you wish to sell. You've a house that is 20 years older than the day you moved in. There is little doubt that despite the fact that homes have appreciated, that unless your neighborhood has upgraded, you'll suffer some depreciation. Again, an "expert" talks:

Say you get $15,000 for the house when you sell, what would the original cost be? Add the $20,000 cash price, the $20,000 lost income, deduct the $15,000 sale price. You get $25,000.

BE REALISTIC. As an owner you've got to pay taxes and maintenance. These might average 3 per cent yearly of the cost of your property of $12,000 over a 20-year period. Add this to the $25,000 figure and you wind up spending $37,000 to live for 20 years in a $20,000 house bought for cash.

What happens if you put $10,000 cash into this $20,000 house and get a $10,000 mortgage at 6 per cent, granted you can find a 6 per cent mortgage today?

The cost of financing this $10,000 mortgage over the 20-year period would be $16,800—this includes repayment of the principal. If you invested the $10,000 used as your down payment, again a 5 per cent note compounded and with no thought of capital appreciation, you'd be $10,000 richer.

Adding the down payment, the cost of financing, plus the $12,000 estimated cost of taxes and maintenance over the 20-year period, you get $48,800 as the cost of your

E. LIVERPOOL—FU 5-2020

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

"The Man" against whom American presidents have hurled themselves futilely for some 40 years once more is surveying the land. Once more he is loosening his legions across every state.

Of course "The Man" is John L. Lewis, now almost a Churchillian 80. Lewis' step is slower. But not his mind and not his 275 organizers who have suddenly picked up speed.

They are part of the 500-man staff of "kid" brother A. D. (Denny) Lewis, now almost 71. They are the forces of famed old District 50, the catchall which John L. once dreamed of welding into a mighty labor federation.

Denny and John have kept the district operating quietly while other labor leaders have thundered across the very stage from which the elder used to hurl verbal bolts, some Shakespearean but mostly Lewisian.

There have been ample funds for District 50. Enough to keep 67 regional offices active from "Maine to California to Florida—in the big cities, along the rivers, everywhere," as Denny Lewis outlined it to me the other day.

He explained that District 50 of the legendary United Mine Workers has locals in "every one of the 39 basic industries."

IN WASHINGTON, where the Miners Union controls the National Bank of Washington, now probably the third largest of the District of Columbia's 12 major financial institutions, Denny has a staff larger than many international unions. There are four special assistants working directly for A.D. Under them are 75 others.

District 50 is really a major union within a union.

"Sure our biggest strength is in the chemical industry but now we'll organize wherever they want us," Denny said, as strong voiced as when I first heard him as a kid reporter.

"The other outfits are ignoring the little fellows. We'll take anyone who wants us, whether it is a paper box plan or a machine shop."

"We've got an organization in the field. In every one of those 67 regional headquarters we've a director and a secretary and they're giving leadership. We've challenged the AFL-CIO in 59 plants since mid-September and we're beating them about 65 per cent of the time," he said.

This is the moment the Brothers Lewis have been awaiting. Two years ago, John L. Truned to a friend in his top floor office, there under the famed chandelier built around a pickaxe and said, "Just you watch, American industry will take on Walter Reuther and Dave McDonald. It will be a long, long battle."

LEWIS RECKONED that the employers would stand all along the line, even in the coal fields. He knew he too was in for trouble.

True the coal associations were giving his miners heavy increases as more and more modern machinery dug up the black fuel instead of the hundreds of thousands of men who had once worked in the pits. But hundreds of mine owners were beginning to fight the United Mine Workers despite the advice of their fellow operators.

Thus, one-fifth of the nation's coal industry now is non-union. Where there had been 400,000 soft coal diggers in the union, there are now only 180,000 going down into the pits regularly.

Furthermore, the union is being sued frequently and in many instances the non-union mine owners have been collecting damages. These they claimed were wrought by Lewis' unionizing drives.

Though the Mine Workers Union treasury is substantial, Lewis and his executive board levied a $20-a-man assessment on the soft coal diggers.

The United Mine Workers needed three million dollars to handle these suits and the awards against the union.

Lewis, having just gotten his men a $10-a-week raise, believed they should contribute to the struggle. He wanted them to understand the serious threat to the UMW itself and not feel they were just on the receiving end.

Then last September Lewis got his chance to recoup. Congress changed the labor law of the land. No longer is it necessary to sign a non-Communist affidavit to be eligible to challenge the AFL-CIO in National Labor Relations Board elections.

Lewis had always proudly refused to dignify the oath. To swear that he was not a Communist would demean him, he had said.

When the law was changed, the Brothers Lewis moved into action—and if they are as they were of old, things soon will be stirring across the land.

Christmas Parties

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The executives of many companies are worried about whether to have an office Christmas party this year.

They are afraid that if they don't hold a cheery staff get-together they will offend their employees. They also are afraid that if they do allow a holiday shindig the affair will get out of hand.

Horace McGrubb, chairman of the gaint Acme Tiddlywinks Co., is one corporation head who doesn't have to worry about the party problem.

He solved it a week ago with a letter.

"With the approach of the holiday season, the question again has been raised whether the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., should have an office Christmas party. In the spirit of true industrial democracy which has always animated our firm, the management has decided this is an issue that should be resolved by employee vote," he wrote.

"The management is prepared to sponsor an office Christmas party on its premises the afternoon before Christmas, or, if the employees so decide, they can instead simply take the afternoon off.

"If an office Christmas party is held, the management naturally will shoulder all expenses. Wives will be invited, of course, as we regard them as essential partners in the operation of the Acme Tiddlywinks Co.

"A plentiful supply of refreshments, consisting of apple juice and sandwiches, will be supplied, courtesy of the management.

"A tentative program for the party has been drawn up. It will consist of the following:

"A short history of the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., to be given by Miss Winifred Myopia, head of our research department.

"A brief speech by President Horace McGrubb explaining why, because of the intense competition in the tiddlywinks industry, the firm will be unable to declare a Christmas bonus this year.

"There will follow an hour of parlor charades and a number of contests, including the three-legged potato sack race. This should provide a lot of fun for all.

"The party will conclude with an hour of group Christmas carol singing, led by Mrs. Horace McGrubb, a gifted soprano who gave up a promising concert career to wed the head of the firm."

The letter was posted on the bulletin board.

Fifteen minutes later a spokesman entered the McGrubb's office and said:

"Sir, the employees have decided by a vote of 312-0 that they'd rather not have an office Christmas party this year."

Ike to Host Dinner at Villa Taverna

ROME (AP) — President Eisenhower will be host at a dinner for Italian leaders Saturday night at the Villa Taverna, the soried residence of the U.S. ambassador to Italy.

This is the 17th century villa where Clare Boothe Luce, then the ambassador, fell ill in 1956. She blamed arsenic poisoning from flakes of crumbling paint that fell from her bedroom ceiling.

The villa stands in a great walled park in Rome's high society Parioli district. It was built in the 17th century by Cardinal Consalvi.

The United States government purchased it in 1948 for $840,336—a bargain.

Italy bought vast amounts of U.S. war surplus materials left here when the war ended. The specification was that Italy could pay in lire and the money would be spent here.

With that money, the United States bought Villa Taverna and also the embassy itself, the Villa Margherita, on fashionable Via Veneto. This was the palace of Margherita, united Italy's first queen. The four-story brown brick and white stone palace was built in 1890.

Traffic Toll Climb Halted

Fatalties Drop During October

CHICAGO (AP) — The steep, steady climb of the nation's traffic death toll has been halted.

The October total was five per cent below the tally for October, 1958. It was the first month of this year to show a decline. And the number of fatalities, 3,420, was the lowest for any October in 10 years.

The National Safety Council, in reporting the figures today, said the toll for the first 10 months of this year was 30,560—two per cent above the total for the corresponding period of 1958.

The decrease was recorded in October after monthly increases that ranged as high as eight per cent early in the year.

Disabling injuries in traffic accidents through the first 10 months of this year were estimated at 1,100,000.

The Council also estimated that travel in the first 10 months of this year was up four per cent compared with the corresponding period of last year.

The January - through - October mileage death rate - number of fatalities per 100 million miles of travel—was 5.3, the lowest on record for the period covered.

Bliss Gets Large Order for Presses

A large order for metalworking presses, totaling approximately $5 million, has been placed with the E. W. Bliss Company of Canton by a major automotive manufacturer.

It is announced by Bliss President Robert Potter, the order, which includes 21 large straight side rolling bolster presses, 18 cloverleaf welding presses and two blanking presses, is believed to be the auto industry's largest single investment for heavy metal forming equipment since the boom expansion years of 1955 and 1956.

The 21 straight side underdrive presses will make up three complete stamping lines. Each of the three lines consists of a double action draw press, a single action blanking press and five secondary operation presses. Capacities for individual presses in the lines are in the neighborhood of 800 tons.

All presses on this order will be built at the Canton plant.

aggression, subversion and penetration.

"In a world sorely troubled by an atheistic imperialism, (foreign aid) is a strong instrument of hope and encouragement."

Eisenhower said "I hope to make this truth clear—that, on all this earth, not anywhere does our nation seek territory, selfish gain or unfair advantage for itself. I hope all can understand that beyond her shores, as at home, America aspires only to promote human happiness, justly achieved."

Centennial Park Drives Closed for Winter

Centennial Park drives have been closed for the winter, C. F. "Rusty" Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation, said today. Closed are the drives between E. Pershing and Oak St. and Oak and Maple St.

This year the park personnel decided to block the roadways with links of chain run between iron pipes, Tomlinson said. Last year, wooden barricades were used.

Athens Area Off State Critical List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Athens - Logan - Nelsonville, Ohio, area has been removed from the critical unemployment list, the Bureau of Employment Security announced Thursday.

However, Columbus, Ohio, was changed from the 1-3 per cent category to the 3-6 per cent area because of cancellation on an aircraft contract.

Generally the bureau commented, there has been a moderate improvement in the employment picture since September.

ENLISTMENTS ACCEPTED

EAST PALESTINE — Enlistments are now being accepted by the Reserve Army Unit, Co. C, 778th Tank Battalion here, according to Capt. John A. Dean, commanding officer.

Men, 18 to 25, enlisting now for six months' active duty, will report for duty in January or February. Interested persons should contact Capt. Dean at his home or at the Armory at 300 S. Market St. on Sunday, or M. Sgt. John Wern of Salem.

CRASH PROVES FATAL

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Donald Cantagallo, 16, of Ashtabula, was injured fatally Thursday night in a one-car crash, the Highway Patrol reported. Cantagallo was a passenger in the car, driven by Thomas Johnson, 16, of Ashtabula, as it veered off an Ashtabula County road near Ohio 45.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Emory Mathews

ELLSWORTH—Mrs. Mary Mathews, 83, died of a heart ailment Thursday at 7 p.m. at her home on the Salem-Ellsworth Road. She had been ill four years.

Born Jan. 13, 1876 in New Albany, she was a daughter of Robert and Janet Thompson Auld.

She was a member of the Ellsworth Presbyterian Church.

Her husband, Emory, to whom she was married in 1898, died in 1939.

She is survived by three sons, Paul of Youngstown, Glen of Akron and Myron of Ellsworth; a sister, Mrs. Christina Godward of Los Angeles; five grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Williams Funeral Home in Canfield. The Rev. Emory Lowe, pastor of the Ellsworth Presbyterian Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in Ellsworth Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

Ike

those who did turn out cheered lustily.

In the courtyard of Quinral Palace, the ceremonies were cut short due to the rain. Gronchi and Eisenhower hustled inside and up the broad marble staircase to the Eisenhower apartment.

Eisenhower's daughter - in-law, Barbara, was escorted to another apartment—one usually given to the wives of chiefs of state.

Eisenhower's son and other top members of the party were given lesser apartments.

Eisenhower, in a broadcast just before leaving Washington, emphasized that he was carrying a message of peace.

"In every country," he said, "I hope to make widely known America's deepest desire—a world in which all nations may prosper in freedom, justice and peace, unmolested and unafraid."

The President said the first requirement for reducing the tensions is a start on mutual disarmament by the Western powers and the Soviet bloc. But he warned that until disarmament starts, the United States must maintain a military strength adequate in quality and power.

He declared "Without this military strength, other efforts to provide a shield for freedom and to preserve and strengthen peace would be futile."

Ahead of the American President were 48 crowded hours in Rome before he takes off just before noon Sunday for Ankara, Turkey. Then, in whirlwind succession will come visits to the capitals of Pakistan, Afghanistan, India, Iran, Greece, Tunisia, France for the Western summit meeting in Paris, Spain and Morocco. He returns to Washington on the night of Dec. 22.

The President's schedule today included lunch with Gronchi and a black-tie dinner and reception given by the Italian President for his guest.

Saturday Segni does the lunch-honors and Eisenhower entertains at a dinner and reception at the Villa Taverna, the residence of the U.S. ambassador. Eisenhower, himself, and his party were quartered at the Quinral Palace, 16th century palace of popes, Italian kings and now of the nation's presidents.

On Sunday, for two hours just before his departure, Eisenhower will become a "private visitor" to pay a call on Pope John XXIII, the first papal audience for an American President since Pope Benedict XV received Woodrow Wilson in 1919.

Five hours of Eisenhower's 48 in Rome were set aside for talks with Gronchi and Segni. But Italy's Christian Democrat government is a firm supporter of American policies in the cold war and there are no great political differences to discuss.

Much more important than the private talks, it was believed in Rome, will be the President's public appearances and the fact of his visit as a demonstration of U.S.-Italian friendship.

Butler Grange Sets

Annual Dinner Saturday

Butler Grange members will hold their annual oyster dinner at noon Saturday at the hall.

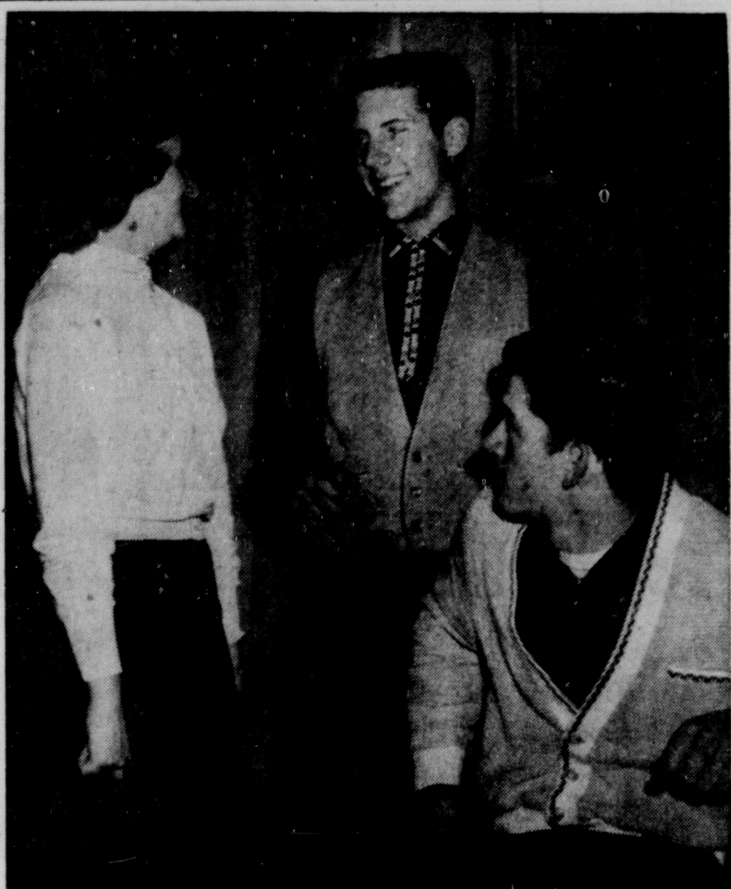

Plans for the dinner were made at the regular meeting Wednesday night.

Lee Whinery presided when donations were made to the Salvation Army and the Columbiana County Welfare Children's Christmas fund.

The lecturer, Miss Mary Bloor, was reported ill.

A treat was planned for the Dec. 16 meeting.

Mrs. Raymond Raber was in charge of the program which included: Roll call, remembering the happiest Christmas; Christmas prayer by Mrs. Lowell Whinery; clarinet duet by Marjorie Raber and Linda Sanor; poem, "His Name at the Top" by Mrs. Oliver Conser; poem, "The Crowd at Inn" by Mrs. Raymond Raber.

GOSHEN PLAY SCENE — Tempers flare as the defense attorney and the prosecuting attorney tangle over a point of law in the Goshen Union High School play "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners."

The play, performed by the senior class, opens tonight for a two-night stand. Curtain goes up at 8:15, under the direction of Frances A. Shaffer.

County Steer Unit Plans Annual Session

LISBON — Plans for the annual Steer Club's meeting Tuesday, Dec. 29, at Lisbon Grange hall, were completed Thursday night when the Columbiana County Steer Committee met in the extension of office.

Richard E. Linder of Alliance, representative of a feed company, will be the guest speaker. A film on feeding and management will also be shown.

Nominated at last night's meeting as 4-H member representatives for one year are Gary Piskarsky of Wellsville RD 1; Ronald Camper of Salineville RD 1; Bill Skeels of Lisbon RD 4; Ray Humphrey of Kensington RD 1; Neva Kitzmiller of Homeworth and Jerry Ward of Columbiana RD 1. Three will be named at the election Dec. 29.

Adults nominated (three to be elected at same time for two-year terms) are Donald Sanor of RD 1, William Werner of RD 2, and Chester Roff of Salem; Paul Melenkoff of East Palestine RD 1; Olen Wallace of Homeworth and George McPherson of Homeworth. Forty steers will be raised by County Steer Club members during 1960 and will be offered for sale at the Columbiana County Fair in August, according to Donald Myers, county farm agent.

3 Vehicles Involved In Accident Here

A tractor-trailer unit making the turn from N. Lincoln Ave. to E. State St. too sharply caused damage to a car and a truck shortly after 9 this morning.

The driver of the auto, M. S. Grace M. Rogers, 59, of 981 Franklin Ave., was treated at City Hospital after being shaken up in the mishap.

She had stopped her car in front of the post office to discharge a passenger, she told police, when the left rear wheels of the trailer ran over the back of her vehicle. The impact pushed it into a parked truck ahead of her and tore off a rear fender and loosened the gasoline tank, police said.

Driver of the parked truck, Donald R. Stille, 39, of Youngstown, had stopped for a delivery, police said.

Walter R. Lewis, 48, of Cincinnati, driver of the tractor-trailer, was cited for reckless operation.

Serviceman Drives

Car Into Swim Pool

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP)—TV producer Bob Finkel made an emergency call to his swimming pool company Thursday.

"My filter is clogged," he told them. He wasn't kidding. An automobile was in his pool.

Finkel produces and co-directs the Dinah Shore Show.

"I gave my 11-year-old daughter, Terry, the keys to my wife's Volkswagen and told her that a Volkswagon man would come and pick it up for servicing," he said. "I went back to sleep. Soon she came and awakened me and said, 'There's a man in our pool.'"

Finkel said he got to the pool just in time to see John Zebelo, the service man, climbing out of the tiny car—dripping wet.

Zebelo, Finkel said, had just made a wrong turn on the driveway.

21 Drivers Fined, Forfeit Bonds Here

Twenty-one motorists left $265 in fines and forfeitures at Judge Luther Donbar's county court recently after being arrested for various traffic offenses.

Fined a total of $170 were: Charles M. Dunlap of RD 1, Newton Falls, $10, left of center; Delbert Jarrell of Cleveland, $20, left of center; Wayne Calhoun of 418 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, $10, speed; Clarence Fleniken of Homeworth, $10, failure to yield; Phillip Moss of Akron, $10, yellow line;

Howard W. Cole of 276 E. Pine St., Lisbon, $10, speed; James Harris of Warren, $10, left of center; John Stewart of Akron, $10, passing at an intersection; Richard Blamer of Wellsville, $10, yellow line;

Merle Secret of 861 W. Wilson St., $10, yellow line; Blaine Daugherty of Youngstown, $10, left of center; Milton W. Tipton, 502 S. Main St., Columbiana, $10, yellow line; Michael Brady of Youngstown, $10, assured clear distance;

David Gilkinson of East Liverpool, $10, speed; Jason Hyatt of East Liverpool, $10, speed; and Donald E. Hoopes of RD 1, East Rochester, $10, reckless operation.

Forfeiting $95 were Lawrence M. Gibson of East Palestine, $15, failure to signal; Richard K. Huston, of East Palestine, $20, yellow line; Wilbur Hayes of Akron, $20, yellow line; Paul Walter of Pittsburgh, $20, left of center; and Thomas Repula of Youngstown, $20, no lights.

Goshen FHA Host

At Sub-Regional Rally

Members of the Goshen Chapter Future Homemakers of America were hostesses at the recent sub-regional FHA rally at Goshen Union High School.

Miss Mary Ann Vandenburg, the president of the host group, opened the meeting. Sandra Malmbsberry of Goshen and Esther Sporetta of Leetonia were named temporary chairman and secretary, respectively. The officers are applicants for the state FHA degree.

The junior and senior members of the FHA recently visited the Heinz Plant, the chrysanthemum show at Phipps Conservatory and Horne's Department Store in Pittsburgh. The visit to the department store was a part of the teen-age consumer project for the year.

Miss Daisy Stackhouse is the group adviser.

Discussion Planned

By High School PTA

Salem High School Parent-Teacher Association will hold a "lazz session" Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The topic for discussion will be "Curriculum, what's good and what's bad, and the school's future plans."

On hand to answer questions on the subject will be chairmen of 10 curriculums. Parents are asked to be prepared to present their questions at the meeting, which will afford information on issues about which all Americans are concerned.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I had to take a stiff drink to get up the courage to write this letter but my mind is clear and I hope you will print it.

I ruined my daughter's life because I was stubborn and ignorant. Maybe another mother can learn something from my horrible mistake.

When Mary Elizabeth was 16 I caught her and her boy friend in the act of heavy necking. They had just returned from a beach party and were wearing swimming suits. It was disgraceful.

I threw him out of the house and kept Mary Elizabeth up all night threatening and scolding. I made her quit the high school band because the boy was in it. I wouldn't let her go out with him or anyone else.

Her school work fell down and she lost interest in everything. All the kids knew she couldn't accept invitations so after awhile she was left out of everything.

Mary Elizabeth quit high school in her senior year, only weeks before her graduation. She got a job as a grocery clerk. All her ambition and interest in life disappeared. Now she's 34—a nervous, sour old maid. She's a confirmed man-hater and won't fix herself up or even buy clothes.

The family doctor told me I ruined this girl's life. He said I should never have cut her off from young people—that getting caught was punishment enough. He said

I should have given her a chance immediately to prove she could be trusted.

Take my advice, Mothers — If your daughter disappoints you as mine did, don't torture her with reminders. Help her to make a future. I wrecked my daughter's life and I can never forgive myself.—Broken Hearted Mother.

Pointed Head

Dear Ann: I've been reading your column for a long time and have decided this world is sure full of crazy people.

I have a solution to most of the troubles in America. Why not round up these boys who get girls into trouble, the husbands who cheat on their wives, the young loafers on almost every street corner in the country and put them all in the Army?

This way, society would be safe from them and they'd be where they would have to toe the mark—or else.

I think I have a point and I hope you will agree.—FIGURED OUT.

Dear Figured: You've got a point all right—but if you put your hair right it may not show.

How would you like to trust the national safety to a bunch of loafers and delinquents? The Army isn't a penitentiary but one of our national institutions and we want to be proud of the men in it.

Safe At Home

Dear Ann: Tell that lady who is mad at her husband because he sits in the window Saturday afternoons and watches the pretty girls as they come and go to the modeling school that she is all wet.

I had an old rooster who chased chickens for 62 years but he always came home to roost. With all his faults I loved him dearly and now that he is gone I miss him terribly.

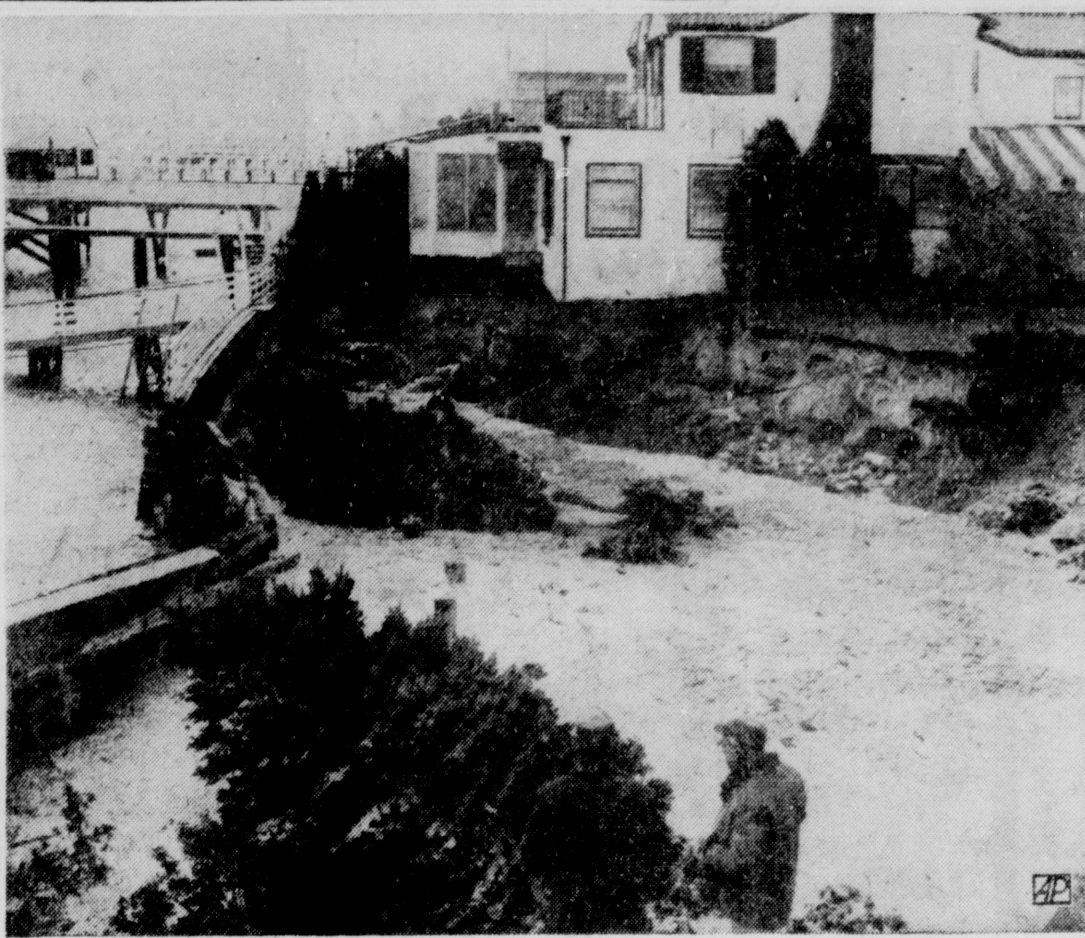

I was a cateress in some of the wealthiest homes in the East and I found skeletons in every closet I opened. The fat cats did more than chase and look . . . they caught. Tell Mama so long as the guy is at home she has nothing to worry about.—MRS. J.P.J.

Confidentially

TO DESPERATELY IN LOVE: You need this man like you need a second row of toes. You say he drinks only when he's sad. Well, if he's sad seven nights a week, when is he glad? My advice is to head for the door before you find yourself in serious trouble.

TO DONE OUT: Sorry, Toots. I agree with your parents. You were old enough to run off, now paddle your own canoe and let that "darling" husband pay your bills.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BOTTOM DROPS OUT OVERNIGHT — Atlantic Ocean waves lap at land supporting Nat J. Wynn's home, upper right, after living room and den fell out in cave-in at Atlantic Beach, N.Y. A 60-foot strip of the Wynn lawn sank into water and floor and furnishings of living room and den followed. Home is in Long Beach, an island in outer New York bay.

Help yourself to better TELEPHONE SERVICE....

These rules will help you to have better telephone service. They are not new rules. The need of them became apparent shortly after the telephone was invented. So being old rules, they should be well known but it is surprising how many times our customers find someone on their party line who is not following these rules. Here are the most important of these rules:

1. Be Friendly. Don't jiggle the receiver when someone else is using the line.
2. Be Brief. Keep your calls short. Other people on your line can't use their telephone while you are using yours.
3. Be Considerate. A receiver left off the "hook" interrupts all service on the line. Make sure that the telephone is "hung up" correctly when you finish your conversation.
4. Be Neighborly. Give up the line if your neighbor asks for it to make an emergency call. The law requires that you must do that.
5. Be Courteous. Don't say your call is an emergency unless it really is. If the other party is using your line, let him finish in peace.

Remember, the above rules for Better Service will work only when EVERYONE follows ALL the rules.

LSU's Cannon Is Only Repeater on AP All-America Squad

Orange Lands Pair on Team
Marlin McKeever Wins End Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Cannon, Louisiana State's explosive halfback, is a repeater and unbeaten Syracuse is the only team with two representatives on The Associated Press 1959 All-America football team. The team, representing every section of the country, is announced today after thorough sifting of the recommendations of 12 regional boards of newsmen. Cannon, winner of the Heisman Trophy and top pick of the pros, heads a backfield unit which includes his Sugar Bowl opponent, Charley Flowers of Mississippi; versatile Jim Mottly of Arkansas and Bob Schloredt, the one-eyed quarterback who guided Washington into the Rose Bowl. Syracuse, the nation's No. 1 team, provided a pair of the huskies for the 1 1/2 ton line—Fred Mautino, 191-pound, pass-snagging end, and Roger Davis, 228-pound guard whose alert line-backing featured the Orangemen's rugged defense. Opposite Mautino at end is Marlin McKeever, one of the ferocious twins from Southern California, and the other guard is Bill Burrell of Illinois, a former fullback. The tackles are Don Floyd of Texas Christian and Dan Lanphear of Wisconsin. The center is Georgia Tech's Marie Baughan. Cannon, 23 and father of three, has been the chief offensive weapon of an LSU team which has lost only one game in two years. Shotputter, weightlifter and a 9.5 second sprinter, he was the team's "climax" man — always coming through in the big moments.

A highlight was his 89-yard punt return in the final minutes for the touchdown which pulled out a 7-3 victory over Mississippi. He gained 598 yards rushing and returned punts, kickoffs and intercepted passes for an additional 527 yards. He averaged 40.3 yards on his punts. Schloredt, who lost sight of his left eye in a childhood accident, is another all-around performer, equally effective on offense and defense. Acclaimed the best pass defender in the Far West, he also passed for 733 yards and five touchdowns, ran for 225 yards and scored 54 points. Speed and deception are the trademarks of Flowers, a pre-law student whose shifty, stutter style of running enabled him to rack 773 yards on the ground. He also distinguished himself as pass catcher, blocker, line backer and quick-kick specialist. Mottly, who once thought he might have to forego football because of recurring dizzy spells, instead left the dizziness to his opponents. He carried the ball 93 times for 519 yards, returned kicks for 171, scored five times and also starred as passer and receiver.

Beaver Wrestlers Win Over Brilliant

Beaver Local wrestlers downed Brilliant 41-8 in the season opener Thursday as they lost only two of the 10 matches — one by a pin which scored five points and the other by a decision which is three points. The host Beaver Local wrestlers won two matches by forfeitures, five by pinning their opponents and two by decisions. Carl Hoppel, who won the 120-pound weight state crown last year as a freshman, won his first match as a 133-pound sophomore easily as he pinned Brilliant's Dehart in one minute and 33 seconds. Matches are composed of two three-minute periods, Coach Jack O'Rourke said. Other results in the various weight classes were: 103 pounds — Charles Timmons (BL) pinned LaCrosse in 3:20. 112 pounds — Francis Passage (BL) pinned L. Sterling, 5:57. 120 pounds — Gary Rambo (BL) pinned Burge, 1:45. 127 pounds — Larry Yost won by forfeit. 138 pounds — Bill Dunn (BL) won by forfeit. 145 pounds — Bill Greathouse (BL) decided Hinkel, 6-0. 154 pounds — Jim Hall (BL) decided Stewart, 9-2. 165 pounds — Jim Sterling (B) decided Roy Carter (BL) 11-9. 175 pounds — Hand (B) pinned Francis Campbell, 1:20. Heavy — Art Matheny (BL) pinned Miller in 1:32. Exhibition — Bob McBane (BL) pinned Groves and Richey Hopple (BL) pinned Edwards.

Beaver Local Frosh Lose to E. Liverpool

Beaver Local's freshman cage squad dropped a 41-17 game to East Liverpool's East Junior High Thursday at the victor's court. It was the season's opener for the Beaver Local team. Dec. 10, the freshman squad will be host to the Salem ninth graders.

Baseball Draft Is Called Good
Owners Getting Things In Focus

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball is trying to rescue itself from an expensive civil war for new talent. Alarmed by the high bidding in the bonus market, the owners are attempting to get things in focus. The first-year player draft, re-adopted Thursday by the minor leagues is being hailed by many as a sound step in the direction of economy. Of course, it must be ratified by the major leagues next week in Miami Beach. "The idea is to save us from ourselves," said Fresno Thompson vice-president of the Los Angeles Dodgers who proposed the new modified version of the draft. "We are trying to stop ridiculous spending." "I regard this as a piece of constructive legislation," said Lee Mac Phail, general manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Both the Orioles and Dodgers are high bidders in the bonus race. To the average fan this talk about first-year draft, bonus rule and waivers is confusing book language. The technicalities would baffle a lawyer. But the legislation, could have far-reaching effects. Let's try to explain by example. John Doe is a high school boy with many scouts camping at his door on graduation night. The bidding soars past $50,000 and finally he is signed for $100,000. The big league team that is putting up the money knows he isn't ready so he actually is signed to a minor league contract. After one year in the minors, the big league team must make up its mind. Either it brings him up to the major league roster or it leaves him in the minors, where he can be picked up for $15,000 by another big league team. The club that grabbed the first-year player in the draft now can option him out to its minor league farm. That is the new version. The old rule provided that the player could not be sent down unless all the other majors passed him up on waivers on the club that own him originally had a chance to get him back.

TOP CHOICE — Billy Cannon, above, 23, Louisiana State half-back, was the No. 1 choice in the National Football League draft in Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30. He was selected by the Los Angeles Rams.

Lucas Nets 34 Points
Buckeyes Turn Back Memphis State 94-55

By The Associated Press Ohio State stayed unbeaten Thursday night as sophomore Jerry Lucas scored 34 points to pace the Buckeye basketballers to a whopping 94-55 home court victory over Memphis State. This was the Buckeyes' second game of the season. Tuesday they whipped Wake Forest 77-69. In Thursday's intersectional game, the Ohio State cagers jumped off to a 9-0 lead, opened it to 32-10 and by intermission led 46-26. Buckeye coach Fred Taylor commented that Memphis' Tigers "had the same trouble that we had in the first half of our opening game. They were so tense and tightened up it would be difficult to say how good a ball club they might be."

Fullmer Eyes Win Over Webb on TV

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Rugged Gene Fullmer, the Mormon Sunday School teacher who holds the NBA world middleweight title, doesn't predict he'll knock out challenger Spider Webb tonight, but he says he'll beat him. Webb, the Chicagoan who attended Idaho State College 90 miles north of here, replied, "The better man will win. I think I'm the better man." They battle over 15 rounds or less at the 7,000-capacity Utah State University Fieldhouse, in the nationally-televised (NBC) scrap starting at 10 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. It's the first defense for the West Jordan, Utah, fighter since he stopped Carmen Basilio in the 14th round last Aug. 28 at San Francisco, to win the National Boxing Association's version of the title. Fullmer is favored, 7-5 or 8-5, to win this one. The NBA took its blessing from Sugar Ray Robinson for failure to defend. Webb says he isn't going out with the idea of knocking out the champion, but added, "If there is an opening, naturally I'll try to take him out." Fullmer says, "If he keeps going away I'll have to go after him. But I've got the championship and he's got to take it away." The two weigh in this morning with neither having any worries about making the 160 pound limit. Coring will be under the 10-point must system, with the winner of each round receiving 10 points and the loser 9 or less depending on his showing. SCORED OVER 300 POINTS Harry Baird, who plays basketball for Herron Transfer in the Salem City League, is one of only four sophomores to score over 300 points in Mount Union College cage history. Sophs Star In College Cage
Bardley Dumps Abilene 110-68

By The Associated Press If the very early season games can be taken as an indication, the 1959-60 college basketball season may be known as the year of the sensational sophomores. It is hardly necessary to add that the ones who are sensational also are super-sized. The major colleges have been playing only three nights so far and already a dozen and a half, maybe more, sophs have turned in performances far above those normally expected of rookies. Top men Thursday night were 6-6 Chester Walker of Bradley and, for a second time, 6-8 Jerry Lucas of Ohio State but sophs Jim Hadnot of Providence, Norm Halberstadt of VMI, Eddie Test and John Martin of Tennessee and Jerry Russell of Davidson, among others, were singled out for special praise. Walker made his varsity debut for Bradley a memorable one by breaking two college records in a 110-68 victory over Abilene Christian. Playing only 25 minutes he racked up 18 field goals and 44 points. Ohio State keyed its attack to Lucas, who had scored 16 points in his debut, and this time he tossed in 34 in as the Buckeyes routed Memphis State 94-55. Halberstadt scored 28 points and kept the VMI Keydets in the game until the last few seconds before they yielded to William and Mary 79-78. Hadnot made only nine Providence points in an 81-39 decision over Springfield but he hauled down 16 rebounds. Davidson's Russell (a mere six footer) was top scorer against Tennessee with 18 points but between them Test and Martin accounted for 28 as the Vols breezed to a 102-68 victory. The start of the 26th season of college doubleheaders at New York's Madison Square Garden and the seasonal debuts of some of the top Big Ten contenders drew attention Thursday night. St. Louis, a Missouri Valley conference contender beat St. John's, 1959 National Invitation Tournament winner 76-67 after NYU had edged out Marquette 70-69. Michigan State, defending Big Ten champion, beat Bowling Green 96-67. Illinois downed Butler 83-75. But Minnesota took a 73-60 drubbing from visiting Southern Methodist. Notre Dame defeated Western Illinois 77-59 in its opener and Wichita timmed Hardin-Simmons 90-57.

Meissner's Soho, led by high scoring Ron Wyss and Wayne Walters, is on top of the standings with a 5-0 mark. Herron's and Farmers are both 4-0. The remaining seven teams in the league have dropped at least two games. Next week's schedule is as follows: Monday 8, Herron Transfer vs Shaffer Ford 9, Meissner's Soho vs Farmers Bank Wednesday 7, Industrial Mining vs Foreman's Window Cleaning 8, S & B Greenhouses vs Mesmer Coal 9, Salem Stamping vs Birkhimer's Isalys 10, Farmers Bank vs Herron Transfer CITY LEAGUE STANDINGS W L Pct. Only One Regular on Squad
E. Palestine to Open Cage Season Tonight

East Palestine's Bulldogs will open their 1959-60 basketball season at 8 tonight in the high school gym when they entertain the Canfield Cardinals of the Inter-County League. Willis Woods, an All-Tri-County League football quarterback, is the only returning regular from last year's cage squad. Chuck Robinson, another football star, and the other seven members of the varsity are juniors. They are James Hartshorn, Ronald Watt, Jerry Bush, Jack Istnick, Richard Crossland, Miles Lemley and Jim Massey. Coach Don Hinten says that Woods, Bruno, Watt and Hartshorn will be four of the starters tonight. Robinson and Bush are fighting for the fifth spot on the starting quintet. Massey and Istnick are dark horses for a starting role, and Crossland is one of the best defensive players on the team, in the coach's estimation. Lemley excels as a rebounder. Bruno at 6-4 is the tallest man on the squad. Hartshorn and Lemley are an even 6-0 while Robinson, Bush and Crossland are 5-11. Woods is 5-9 and Istnick and Watt 5-8. Coach Hinten is starting his sixth year at the helm of the Bulldog cagers. He will be assisted by Chick McBride who will handle the all-sophomore Reserve squad. Undeclared City League Teams to Meet

Farmers Bank will have an opportunity to break open the three-way race for first place in the City Basketball League next week. The unbeaten Bankers are scheduled to meet the other two teams in the league who are still without a defeat, Herron Transfer and Meissner's Soho. Their battle with Meissner's is slated for 9 p.m. Monday while the Farmers-Herron fray will get underway at 10 p.m. Wednesday in the Memorial Building gym. Meissner's, led by high scoring Ron Wyss and Wayne Walters, is on top of the standings with a 5-0 mark. Herron's and Farmers are both 4-0. The remaining seven teams in the league have dropped at least two games. KSU Coach Has Mixed Emotions About Team's Win

Coach Bill Bertka had mixed emotions about Kent State University's basketball opener against Youngstown Tuesday. Bertka was pleased with the Flashes' offensive showing in the 87-81 win, but expressed disappointment in the team's defensive play. He said he would stress defense in preparation for tonight's game with Arizona State and Monday's contest with Pepperdine College. The games figure to be two of the toughest the Flashes will have all season. Most pleasant surprise in the opening win was the tremendous play of junior guard Jim Maddox. Maddox of Charleston, W. Va., sparked the 1957-58 freshman team to an undefeated season with his fine playmaking and scoring ability. As a sophomore, however, he was a disappointment on the varsity. Against Youngstown Maddox connected on six of 12 shots from the field and gave indication that he is the floor leader the team has lacked for several seasons. He led the Flash fast break in colorful style, whipping several passes behind his back to teammates Pete Baltic, Charlie Boykin and Denny Bayler. All three scored several easy baskets while the defense was looking somewhere else for the ball. It was the same brand of ball that made Maddox one of the school's most crowd-pleasing performers two years ago.

GRIDDER IS HONORED ALLIANCE — Senior quarterback Bill Davis of Mount Union College has been announced as the second team quarterback on the Methodist All-American squad representing the small colleges. He has also received honorable mention on the Little All-American team.

Smithfield Coach Dies In Hospital

STEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Dale Jones, 30-year-old football coach at Smithfield High School, died Thursday in Ohio Valley Hospital at Wheeling, W. Va. He had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Nov. 23 while at the school. Jones' 1959 team recently was named co-champion of the Eastern Ohio Athletic League, covering schools in Jefferson and Belmont counties. A native of Bellaire, Ohio, he was a West Virginia College athlete and had coached at Smithfield for two years.

Mark Fenton To Start for Capital U.

Mark Fenton, former Salem High School cage star, has earned a starting assignment on the Capital University squad this season. Head Coach Whitey Regan announces. Fenton, a junior, also won a varsity letter at Capital as a sophomore. He received a trophy last season for having the highest foul shooting percentage on the team with a 80.5 average. Fenton is a 6-3, 181-pound forward. "Mark has improved from last season and will help Cap in rebounding and scoring," Coach Regan commented. "He is very accurate with his jump shot and should also show a better defensive game," the Coach added. In his senior year at Salem High, Fenton led the 1956-57 squad that year with 297 points. He had a 73.6 average from the foul line that year which was the best mark among the regulars. The 1956-57 team wound up with a 16-5 record and advanced to the district tournament before being dropped by Canton McKinley 56-52. Fenton also lettered in track at Salem. At Capital the Salem athlete has not only proved himself on the hardwood but has also accounted for excellent marks in the academic field. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fenton of 214 Woodland Ave.

County Coaches to Pick All-Star Grid Team

Columbiana County head football coaches will meet Tuesday in Lisbon to select the All-Star football team which will compete against the Beaver Valley, Pa., All-Stars Aug. 6 on the East Liverpool gridiron. Leetonia Coach Pat Mancuso, president of the newly organized Columbiana County Coaches Association, has called the meeting for 7:30 p.m. in Room 202 of Lisbon High School.

Mickey McGuire Program To Open Here In January

Basketball practice got underway Thursday for the six grade schools which will participate in the Mickey McGuire program this season.

Paul E. Smith, superintendent of schools, said the regular season would open in January after Christmas vacation.

J. Robert Miller has been appointed "Czar" and head referee. Men teachers will be used as the coaches rather than high school students as in the past.

Coaches will be Ronald Guchemund, Buckeye; Michael Guapone, Fourth Street; Vincent Crawford, McKinley; Frank

Hoopes, Prospect; John Baker, Reilly; and Paul Horning, St. Paul. Games will be played after school. In order to give more boys an opportunity to participate, no player will be permitted in the game more than two quarters. This is also a change from last year.

Only boys enrolled in the sixth grade or below are eligible to participate in league play. A boy must have also been under 14 years of age on the first day of last September.

A signed parental and physician form for each player will be required.

There will be a split schedule consisting of two rounds of five games for each school. There will be a winner for each round.

League standings will be based on the following point system: winning team for each game, three points; losing team for each game, one point; each team in a tie game, two points.

The games will be played in quarters of five minutes. The 1960 Mickey McGuire program was set up at a recent meeting of elementary principals.

Pitt Frosh Coach Says 2-2 Record Belies Potential

PITTSBURGH — Can this year's University of Pittsburgh freshman football team be judged by their 2-2 record? "No," says Coach Lou "Bimbo" Ceconi. "Despite the record, this team possesses a lot of talent."

The Panther Cubs lost their first two games to Penn State 22-13, and Navy 24-0, and then bounced back to beat Kent State 46-16 and West Virginia 8-0.

But what about the gridders from this year's squad? What effect will they have on the varsity for the next three years? According to Coach Ceconi, "Next year there will be as many sophomores playing as there are this year. This group of boys has a lot of potential. Within two years they will be able to handle Pitt's roughest schedule." There were four sophomores performing with the varsity this year.

The Cubs are particularly deep at the tackle positions with Gary Kallenbach, Ed Adamchik, Bob Zvolner, Charles Evans, Ernie Borghetti and Chuck Andonzo leading the way. Bob Borghetti and Kallenbach tip the scales around 250.

Ralph Conrad, John Drakslar and Carl Hietzel lead the guards while Rinaldo Pecile and Bob Ostrosky head the centers. At the ends the real standouts have been Tom Brown and Bob Long.

In the backfield, quarterbacks Jim Traficant of Youngstown Cardinal Mooney and Glen Lehner could be a big help with a little more experience. At the halfback slots Ed Billy, Charley Robinson and Carman Ronca have been taking the lead.

At fullback all candidates seem about even. However, watch Salem's Lou Slaby, Santo Pino and Jon Butola. All three appear to have possibilities.

Even with this apparent wealth of talent the Cubs seem to lack backfield speed. Only time will determine just what boys will develop into Panther stars.

CATAPULTED CAPSULE — Jet pilots may one day not only carry a vacuum bottle in their lunch but ride in one in the form of a self-contained escape capsule. The Navy has awarded a development contract to Chance Vought Aircraft, Inc., for a space-type capsule which would ride as the sealed-off, independently pressurized nose of an airplane. The pilot would no longer have to wear or carry on his person a pressure suit, oxygen mask, parachute, life jacket or other survival gear. They would all be contained in the capsule. Drawing above shows the idea applied to an F8U-1 Crusader, world's fastest naval aircraft. In the sequence, the capsule is rocketed away from the disabled plane and is lowered to earth by parachute.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.

Take 'Ache' From 'Lumbago'

Once you've promised to do right by your much-abused back, you may still get yourself an acute attack of misery. The Germans call it "hexenschuss," (stab with a witch's needle). And that's what it feels like.

Maybe you've had a big ironing to get done. Maybe you had to lift a heavy carton. Maybe you had to dance in bare feet or stockings on the gymnasium floor. Maybe you slipped on the ice. Maybe you got all horsed up, and wore high-heel dress shoes with a base about the size of a dime. Or maybe a friend took you for a ride in one of the new sports cars.

BEFORE YOU BOTHER your doctor, here are a few things you can do to try to straighten yourself out:

1. Lie on the floor with your hands under your head and your elbows out straight. See if you can press the small of your back against the floor by raising your chest and tightening the muscles of your fanny.

2. Raise one end of the kitchen table on a couple of firm stools. Brace the lower end against the wall so the table won't slip. Jack-knife yourself over the raised end so your legs hang down. Grab the table sides to keep yourself from sliding. Stay that way for at least fifteen minutes after you feel your muscles relax.

AND HERE are a couple of don'ts:

1. Don't let any strong-arm member of the family try jerking you around to work out the kink.

2. Don't strap your back and add skin irritation to your other troubles. If you do, your doctor may not be able to give you an injection that often provides instant relief.

3. And don't delay too long before consulting your doctor. If you can't get yourself comfortable by next morning, get yourself over to his office where he has equipment and assistance for giving you relief.

4. Finally, DON'T rush into surgery. You can always be operated on. Before you agree, try back supports or braces and shoes made to your order by an expert craftsman working under the supervision of a specialist in orthopedics. This may involve considerable expense. But any price is a bargain if you can get the ache out of lumbago.

Right away letters commenced pouring in saying the writers couldn't find anyone who knew of a bar detergent. Very well, I will name four: Dove, Lowila, Acidolite, Dermolate. Some confusion may be due to manufacturers being reluctant to admit their product is a detergent. Lever Brothers likes to call Dove "soap non-soap." But it's a detergent.

I also advised a silicone oil for the scalp and got similar letters. Druggists never heard of it; Hyman was talking through his hat. If you got this response at the drugstore, please go back to the counter and hiss "Silicote" or "Silicare" at your druggist.
